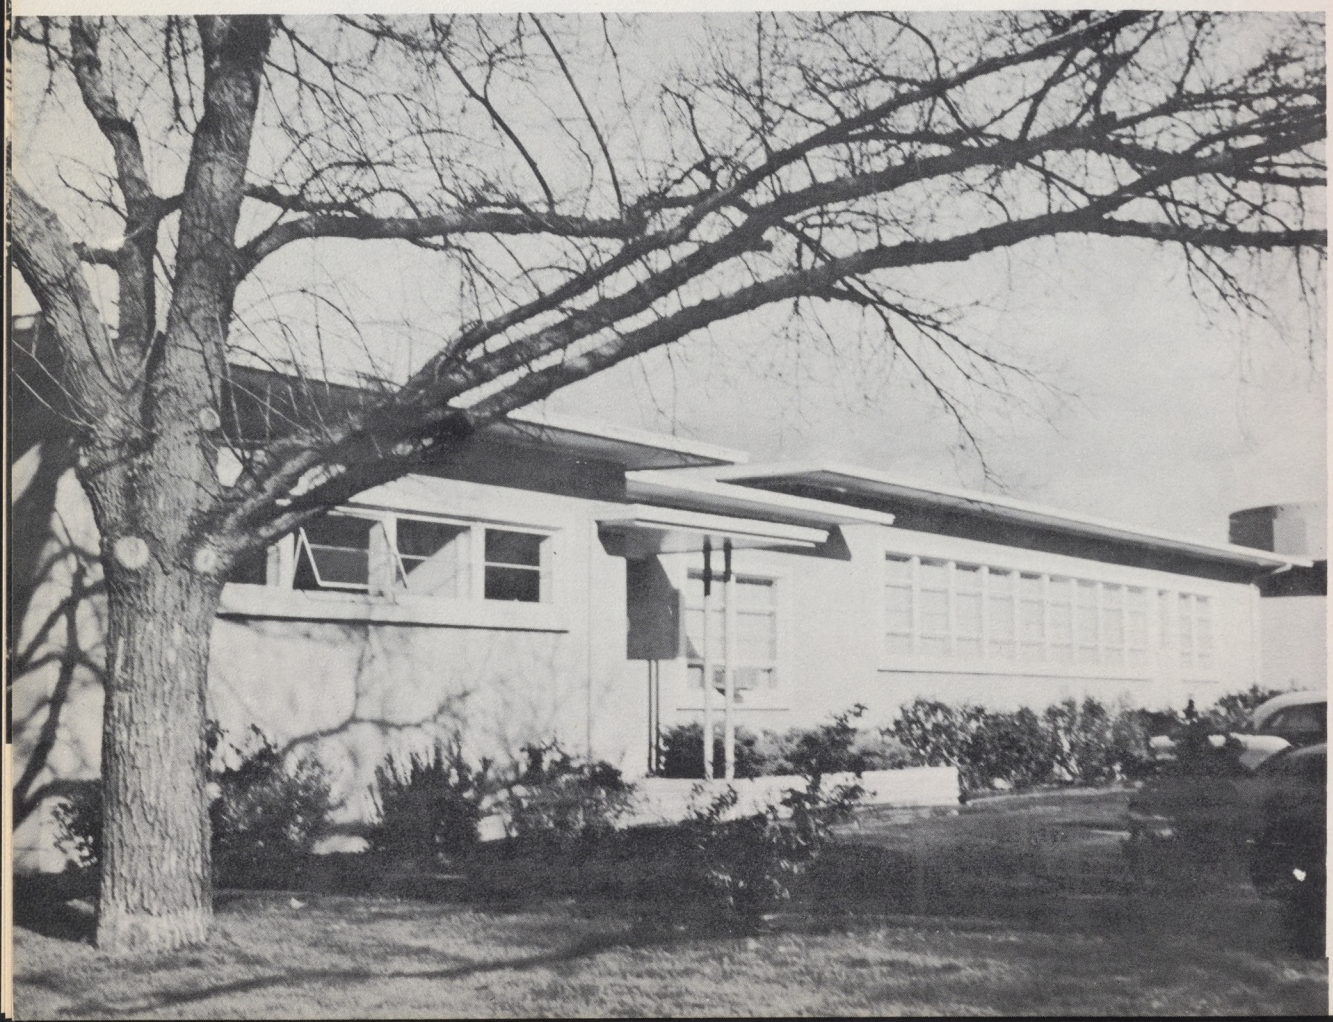
The lengthy corridors of the Main Building, lined with classrooms and administrative offices, ring with bustle and excitement of college life.

The serious aspects of student life are reflected in the hushed stillness of the Library, a sanctuary from the din and clamor of campus activities.

In this modernistic building girls learn the most ancient of womanly skills--the art of beauty.

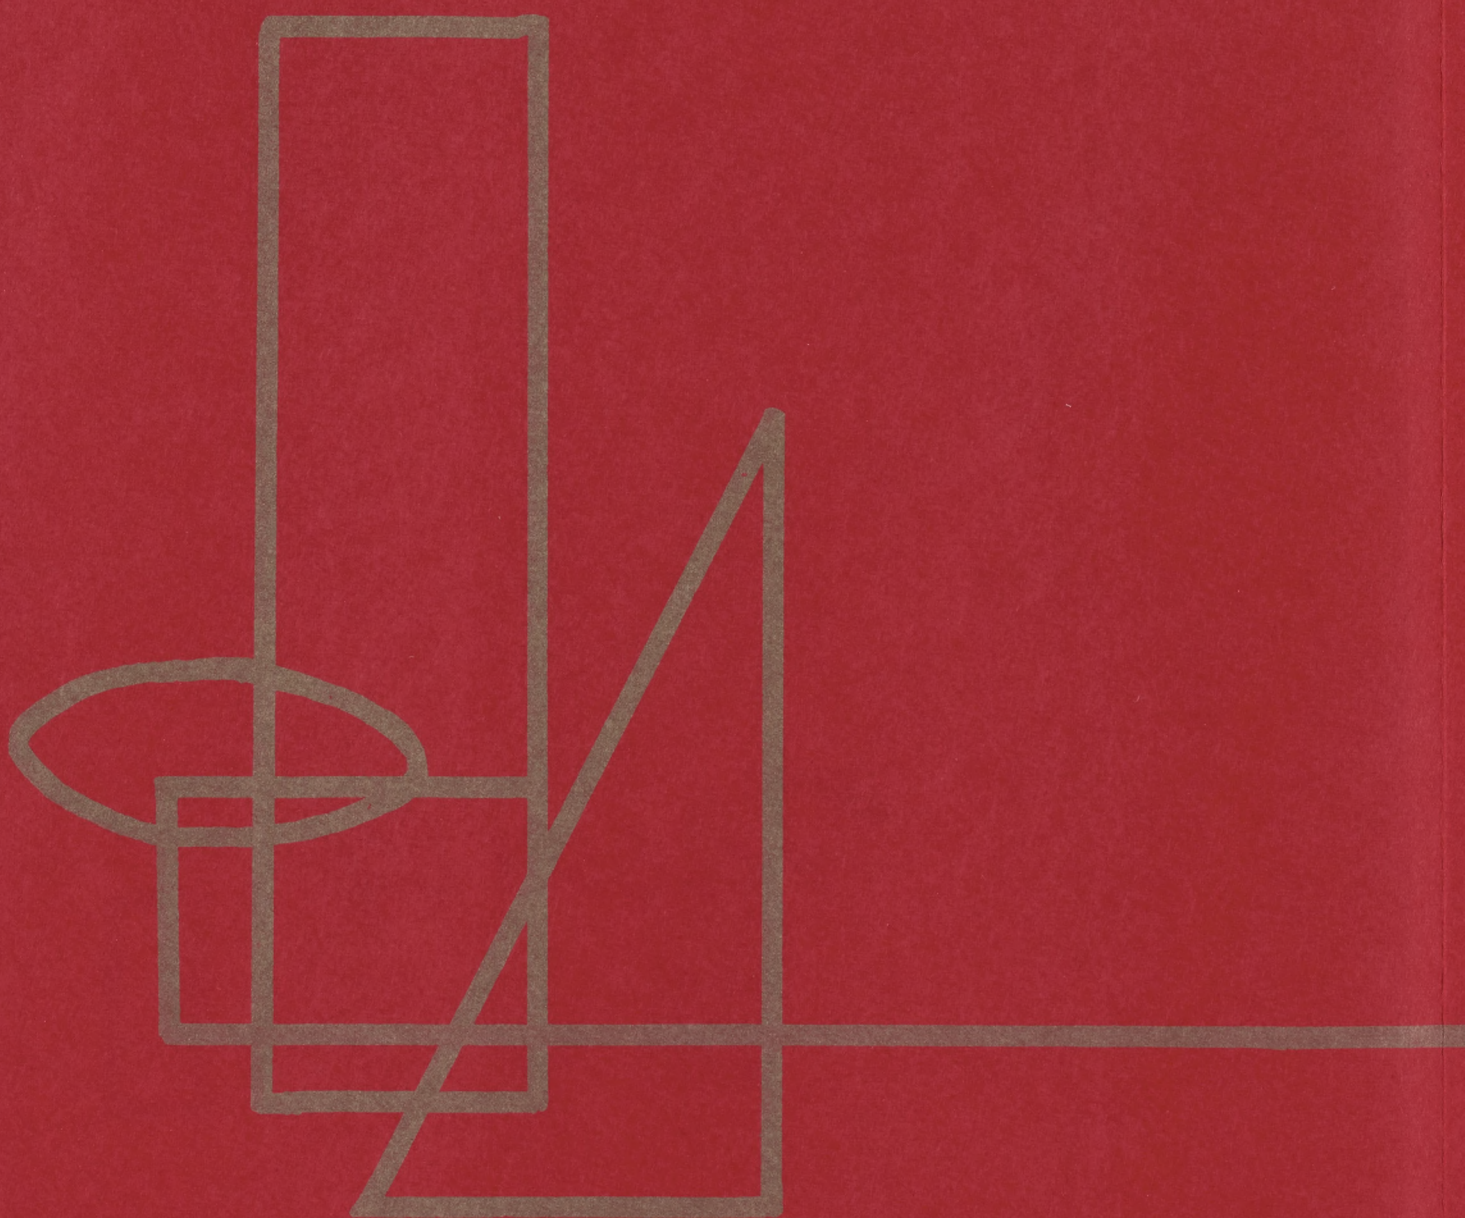


Identical palm trees hail the entrance of the auditorium, from which issue echoes of past rallies, pageants, and farewell speeches.

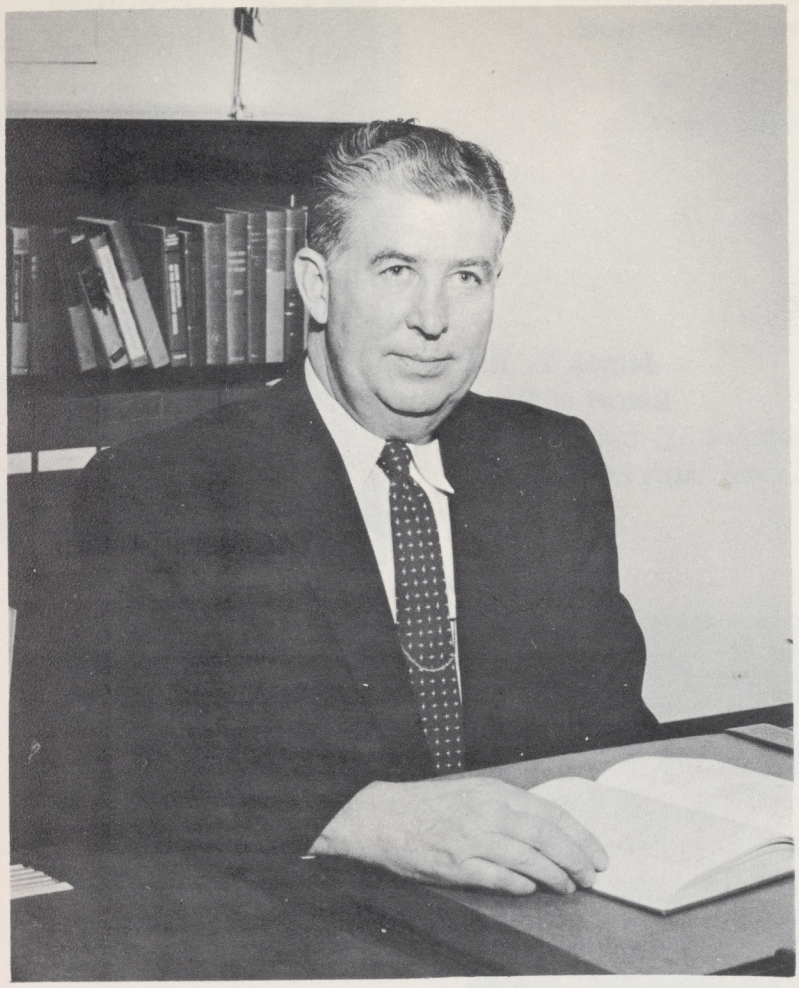
A friendly and informal atmosphere prevails as students and faculty alike enjoy the facilities of this popular gathering place.

Here active college women learn the value of sportsmanship and physical culture by participating in a variety of sports.

Here splashing, kicking, and general watery chaos contrast with the graceful serenity of the aqua ballet.



Faculty



To The Students

Each of you, whether you have just begun your college career or whether you are completing your period of formal preparation, is asking the question, "What of the future?" It is a question to which there is no satisfactory answer. We do know, however, that the future of the world, the future of our nation, and our future as individuals depend in large measure upon how we as Americans play our part in bringing peace and world understanding.

The only insurance for the future is to live each day earnestly, intently, and effectively. At the Sacramento Junior College we shall strive to give the kind of education that will help you to face the state, your nation, and the world.

Congratulations and best wishes for continued success!

Fall Officers

The fall student body officers started their semester by choosing the rally members. With their added support, the officers started the business of the semester. First, they tackled the successful jazz concert. With this attainment under their belts, they attended the California Junior College Student Government Conference in San Francisco, the conference in Marin, and the Governor's conference in Sacramento. They finished their semester by assisting with Tolo and the after game dances.

Spring Officers

The spring student body officers initiated their rally members by putting them to work on Senior Welcome Day. The officers received their initiation in the form of a Student Government Conference in Oakland and a Student Government Conference in Pasadena. To round out their semester's schedule, they assisted in the class office elections, the annual Tolo dance, and Pioneer Day.

Fall semester officers of the STUDENT ASSOCIATION include Marian Kushida, secretary; Shirley Lowrey, judiciary board; Joanne Rand, president; Sue Welch, vice-president; Helen Martinez, treasurer.

Monthly student body meetings, Christmas and May dances, decoration of the first-prize winning car in the Homecoming Parade, and erection of a Pioneer Day booth were among the social activities planned by student body officers to supplement classes on campus and at the residence, ward duty, and lectures by doctors, familiar parts of the three year nursing program.

Judicial Board, composed of two representatives from each class and an elected chairman, held special meetings to discuss and mete out punishment for infraction of constitutional provisions. Representatives from each of the three classes met each Wednesday with the faculty to discuss problems and grievances.

1958 Class

Fall semester officers of the SENIOR CLASS include Mary Carlson, judiciary board; Wanda West, vice-president; Shirley Lowrey, judiciary board; Anna Mae Rubino, secretary; Betty Yamasaki, treasurer. Not present are Sue Smith, president, and Donna Hamblet, faculty representative.

Now completing three years of training, the senior nurses remember still the Christmas party when they were freshmen, their capping, and the first day on the wards. Then, there was the day that they proudly added the first stripe to their blue and white uniforms. Now sporting two stripes and senior pins, they are looking forward to donning their white uniforms and black banded headgear that proclaim them full fledged graduated nurses. Still in the future, too, are the Junior-Senior banquet at the Coral Reef and the dreaded state board exams that will qualify them as Registered Nurses.

1959 Class

Fall semester officers of the JUNIOR CLASS include Peggy Harvey, judiciary board; Geraldine Madden, treasurer; Concha Aldama, president; Edna Masuhara, vice-president ; Joan De Moranville, faculty representative; Nancy Howarth, secretary; Margit Hjelmeland, judiciary board.

Half-way-through potluck dinner on February 8 preceding the freshman capping was the big social event of the year for the junior nursing class. More informal parties were held in the reception hall at the Veterans Housing where many of the class members live. Cornflakes, peanut butter, and milk formed the nucleus of most of the refreshments served there to supplement hospital meals.

Somewhat more formal will be the Junior-Senior banquet in June which is planned for the Coral Reef this year. After that the juniors will add a third stripe to their blue and white uniforms and look forward to the wearing of senior pins on their entrance anniversary, August 20.

Spring semester officers of the JUNIOR CLASS include Margaret Harvey, judiciary board; Sharon Hughes, faculty representative; Margaret Hauer, treasurer; Betty Bowman, secretary; Peggy Heckart, judiciary board; Margit Hjelmeland, president; Marilyn Bascom, vice-president.

1960 Class

Fall semester officers of the FRESHMEN CLASS include Ramona Garcia, faculty representative; Peggy Waters, judiciary board; Mary Gary, vice-president; Janice Miller, president; MarilynDusdale, secretary; Sarah Dominquez, treasurer; Lilly Ziepke, judiciary board.

That Homecoming parade first-place trophy is proudly claimed by the freshmen nurses who decorated the prize-winning car. With the advice of their junior and senior "big sisters," they also planned successful informal Halloween and Christmas parties in their second home, the nurses residence at the County Hospital. The young women, last of those to enter under the three year program, were capped at February 8 ceremonies in the college auditorium and will receive their first stripes in June.

Drama

Maureen Herberger, Carolyn Roberts, Fred Kraft and Judy Trainer are shown as they appeared in a scene from "Desperate Hours."

Desperate Hours

Suspense, action, and surprise were brought to the audience of "The Desperate Hours," the first play of the drama department this fall. The play, which was under the direction of Mr. Jay Deck, told the story of an Indianapolis family who were held hostage by three desperate fugitives. Assisting Mr. Deck were Mike Baker and Arden Davis. The cast included Jim Doull, Curtis Casey, Gene Borges, Carolyn Roberts, Maureen Herberger, Bill Kester, Sheldon Davis, Pete Becker, Hugh Haines, Fred Borovansky, Dick Armstrong, and Judy Trainer.

Sheldon Davis protects Maureen Herberger from Hugh Haines in a tense scene from "Desperate Hours."

This sprightly fantastic tale of the ghost of a young revolutionary officer who returns to bring hilarious confusion into the life of pretty Nancy Willard was successfully staged this spring by the drama department. The play, which has been produced on Broadway, featured Judy Trainer as Nancy and Mike Baker as the romantic ghost. Other members of the cast include Eugene Borges, Bill Kester, Carolyn Larson, Angie Nunez, Fred Borovansky, Carole Kramsky, Lou Procopio, Sheldon Davis, Bob Schultz, Vernon Hill. The production was under the direction of Mr. Jay Deck.

Gramercy Ghost

The maid (Carolyn Larson) worries over sleeping heroine (Judy Trainer) as ghostly Nathaniel Coombes (Mike Baker) looks on.

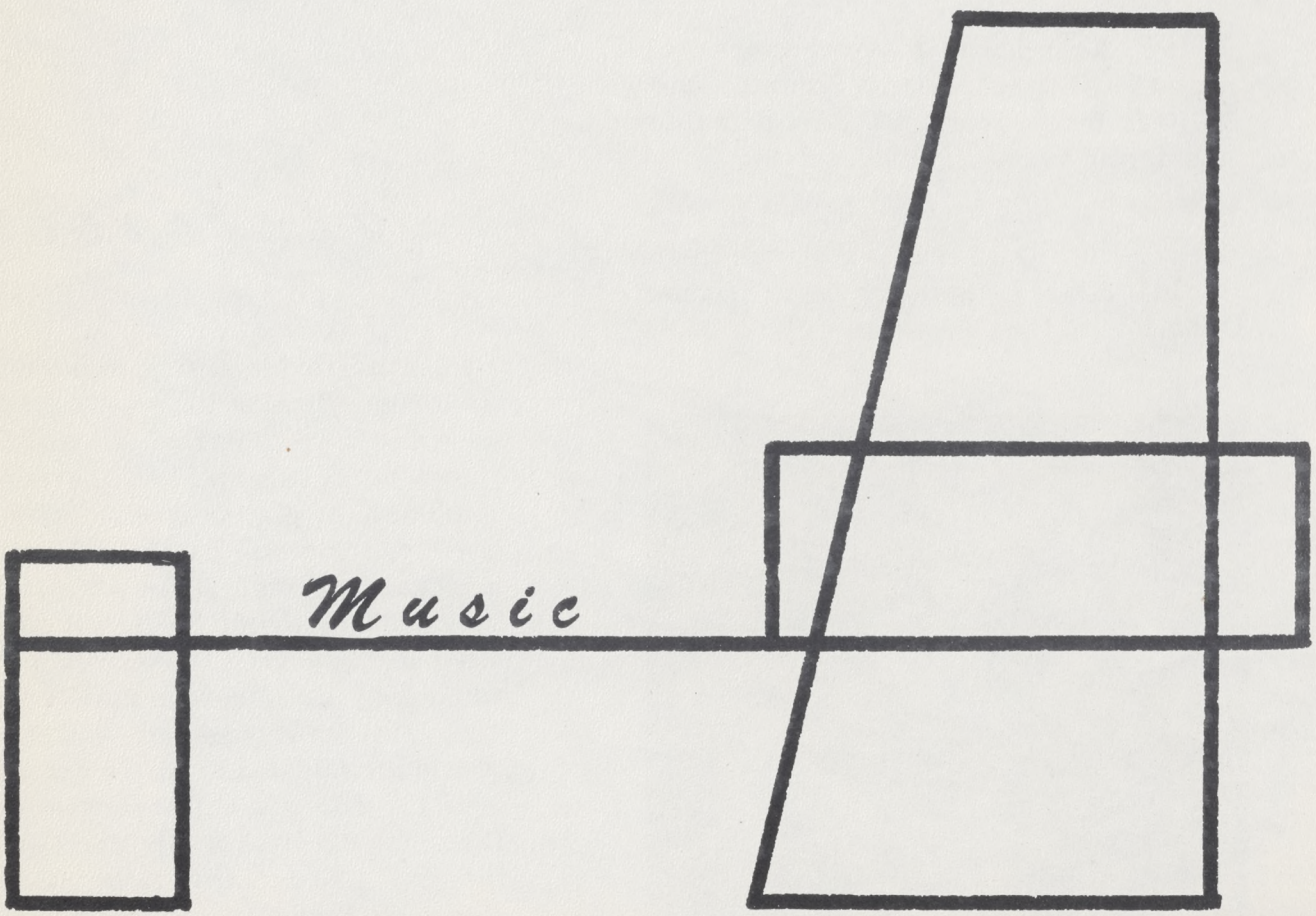
Grimy, drab shacks and tenements are created by stagehands Dave Baldwin, Rusty Miller, Doug Croter, and Bert Nobell for the spring drama, "Winterset."

Maureen Herberger and Bill Kester dream of their future home in one of the brighter moments of the play.

Winterset

The last play of the year presented by the Drama Department was Maxwell Anderson's "Winterset," a well-known verse drama. As the story unfolds, Mio, played by Bill Kester, is seeking evidence that will prove the innocence of his father, who was executed for a crime he did not commit. In his search, he meets Miriamne, played by Maureen Herberger. They are drawn together, but their love is complicated by Mio's concern over his father's unjust execution. Under the direction of Mr. Jay Deck, the play also featured Mike Baker, James Crofoot, Pete Melchor, Vernon Hill, and Bob Shulze.



Music

A Cappella Choir

Under the direction of Mr Stewart Tulley, the a cappella choir performs before various student and community groups. This year the choir appeared on radio and television and participated in the College of the Pacific Music Clinic and in the Sacramento Music Festival. During the Christmas season the choir sang carols at the Sacramento Junior College Christmas program and added to the holiday spirit by singing at Hale's Department Store. Other activities this year included concerts for the Odd Fellows' Convention and Senior Welcome Day.

Head of the music department, Miss Dorothy Noonan, runs through a number on the piano while Mr. Louis Schenk looks on.

Orchestra

This group of musically talented students meets three times a week to increase their technical ability and to further their interest in and knowledge of orchestral music. By playing the music, the students learn to appreciate its fine points and recognize its value. Mr. Norman Lamb, the orchestra's conductor, worked hard throughout the year to bring his musicians to high standard of performance. During the fall the orchestra played an important part in the annual Christmas program and contributed to the Senior Welcome Day program in the spring.

Panther Band

The spirit and enthusiasm of the band were an indispensable part of this year's games and rallies. Under the capable leadership of Mr. Lloyd Glancy, these young musicians did a tremendous job building school spirit at both home and out-of-town games. In addition to their participation in sports events, the band put on a concert in the spring, contributed to the programs for Senior Welcome Day, Public Schools Week, and Pioneer Day, participated in the annual Christmas program and the city-wide Music Festival, and marched in the Memorial Day parade.

Production Staff

The printing of the Pony Express, the Pioneer, all sports programs, and many other special programs is the job of the production staff, which consists of three student photographers and the faculty adviser. Mr. Loy C. Laney is in charge of this important activity. The preliminary work of the reproduction is done by photographic process. Sacramento is one of two junior colleges in California which uses the offset printing method. Also one of the few schools capable of reproducting color by the tri-color printing process.

Campus newspaper, the "Pony Express," is published every Friday of the school year by a very capable group of students. The fall staff, headed by editor Mary Leonard, efficiently reported college news, features, and sports events. Their good work was continued during the spring semester by Jim Coombs and his helpful assistants. The success of this group of students was evidenced by the production of an interesting and informative paper.

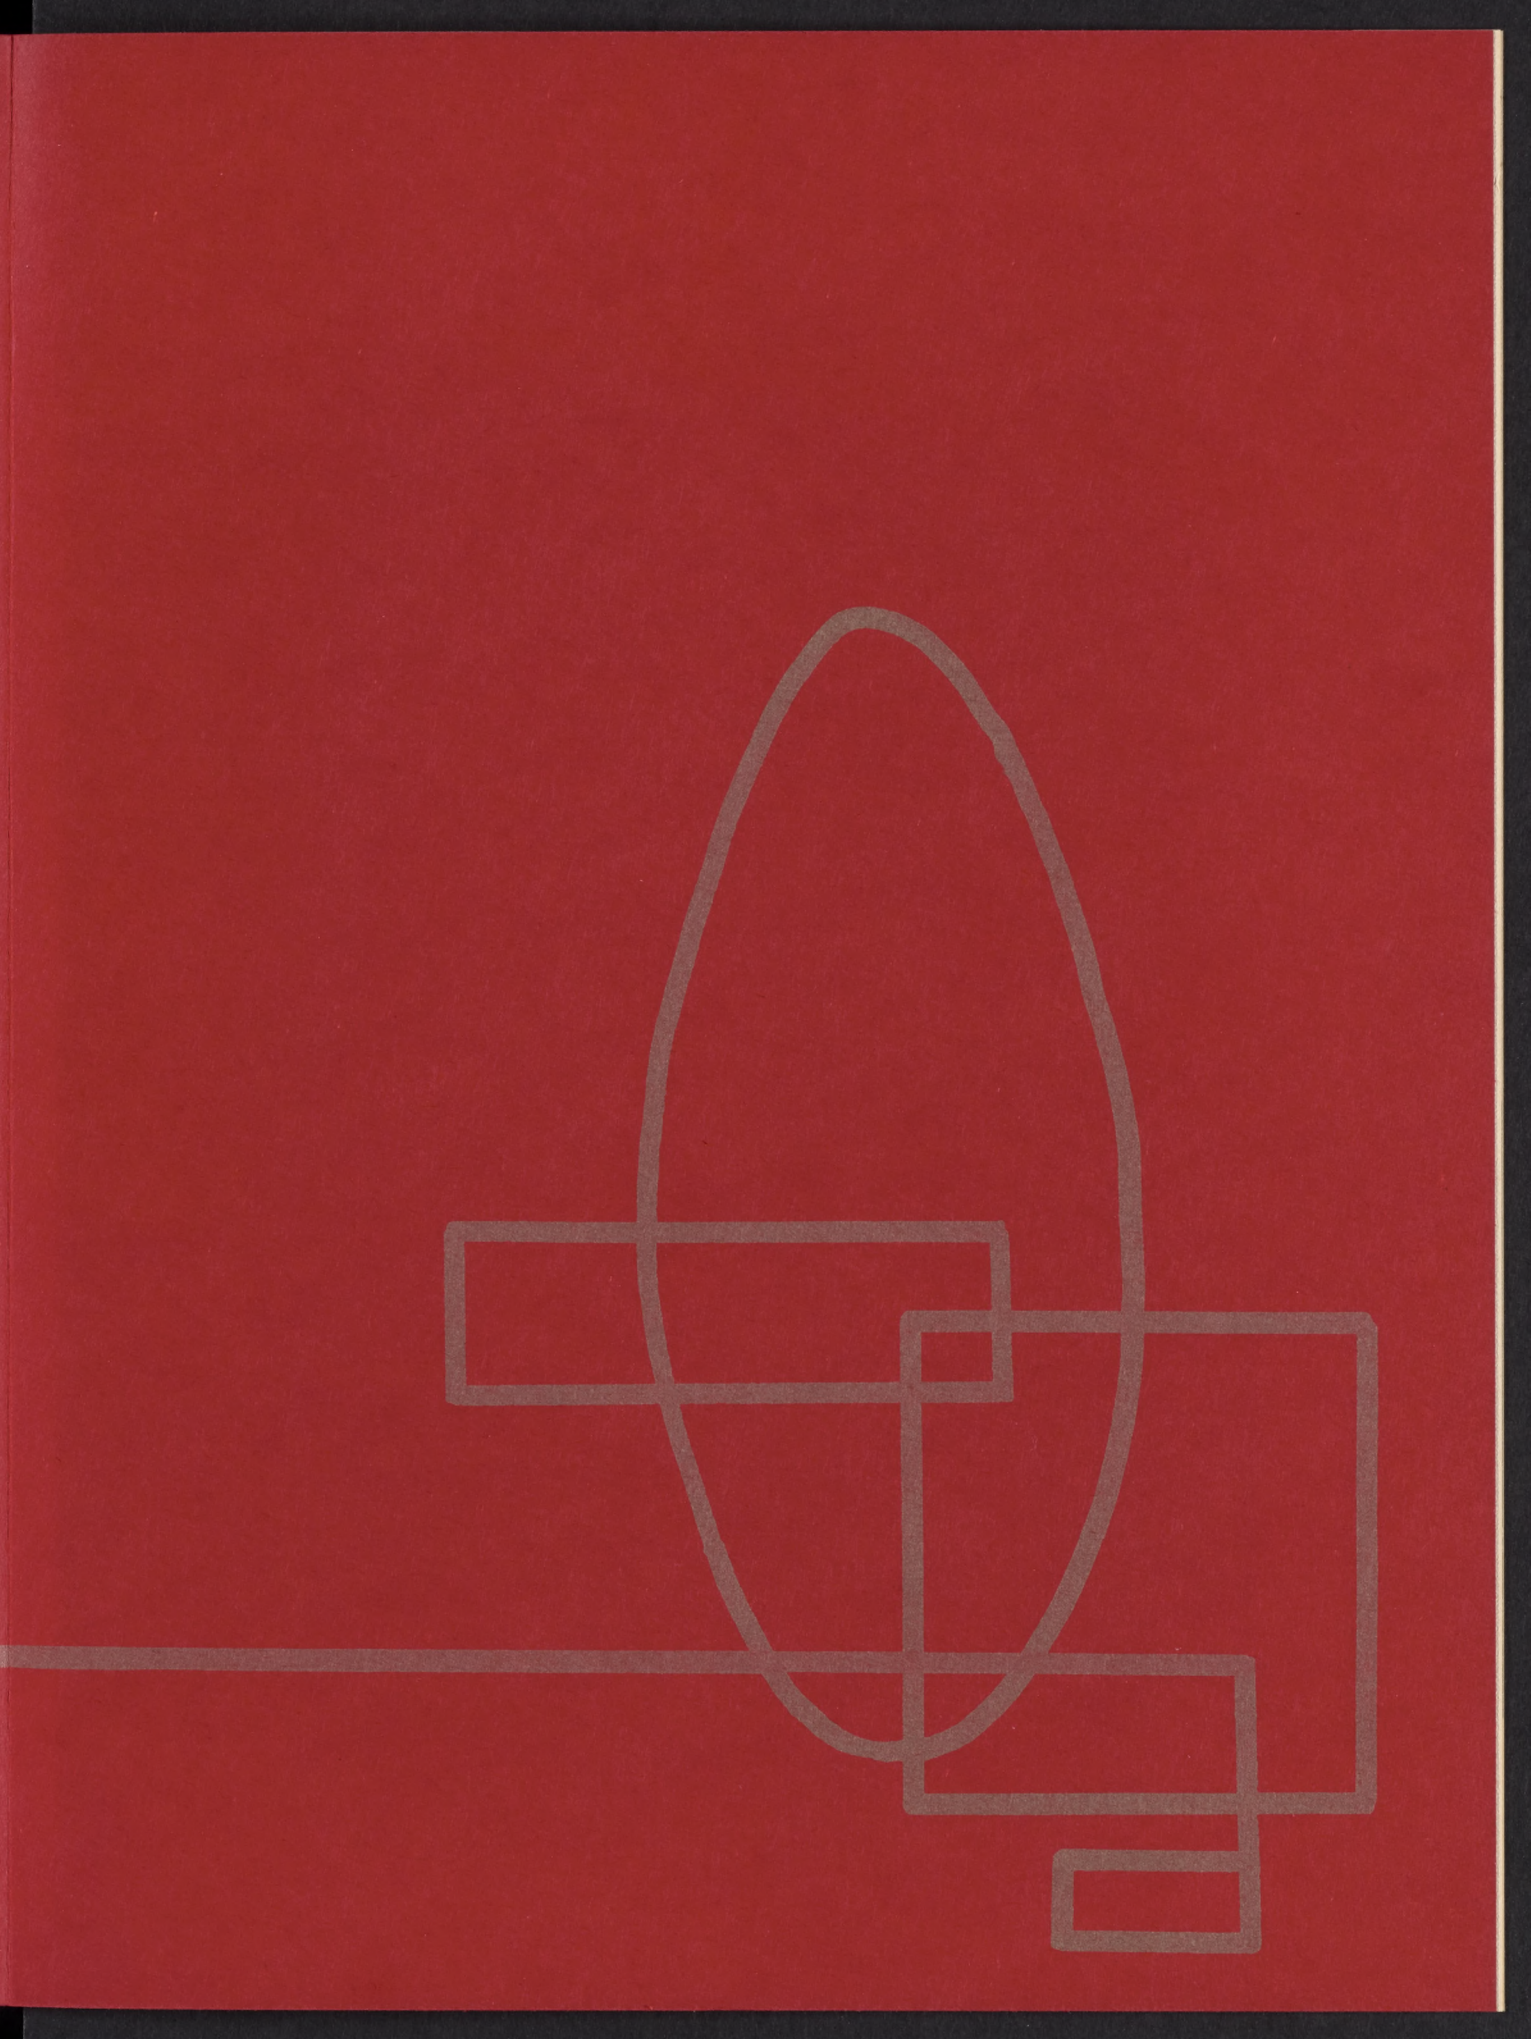
Pioneer Staff

The publication of a yearbook is a task which each year requires a large amount of research, writing, and pasting up from a comparatively small group of students. This year's staff under the direction of George Welsh, has attempted to put out a book which will be enjoyed and approved by all its readers. We have worked with the hope that the 1958 Pioneer will be among the best, if not the best, that the school has ever published.

Campus Life



The spring semester marked the last time students had to stand in line to buy books at the bookstore in the old Publications Building.

Mrs. Eleanor C. Mossman, coordinator of veterans affairs, registers John Samuelsen, a prospective student.

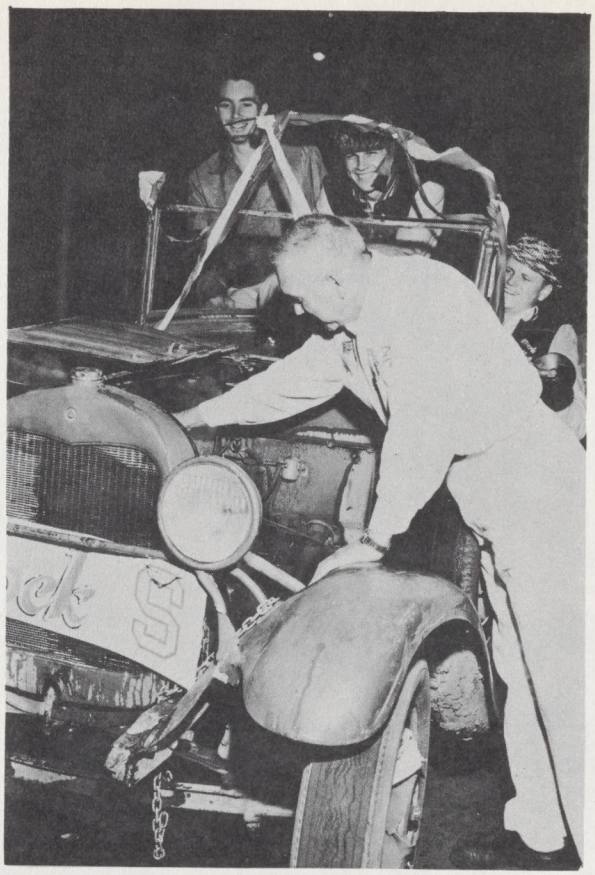
Opening Day

The first day of school each year brings the return of many old students and the entrance of many new ones. Looking ahead to the happy experiences the school year brings, students rush through crowded halls and offices meeting and making friends. Registration, buying books, and going to classes for the first time are all activities that characterize the hustle and confusion of opening day.

Homecoming

Vivacious Lenora Giordano reigned this year over the colorful Homecoming activities. Backed by her sorority, Como Amiga, she was elected from a field of eight lovely girls sponsored by various campus organizations. The queen candidates appeared before the student body at a rally held in their honor and took part in the Homecoming parade, for which many school clubs decorated cars or floats. Lenora was crowned during the halftime of the Santa Rosa game. The festivities were climaxed by an after-game dance held in the men's gym.



Ron Leonard, Terry Bennett, and Willard Kinney kept smiling despite difficulties with Block S's Homecoming entry.

"Frosh Week," anticipated with pleasure by both freshman and sophomores, brings a variety of activities. During this week, the "lowly" freshmen are required to wear their red dinks at all times and to to carry books and do other services for the sophomores. A pie-eating contest, a tug-of-war between the freshmen and sophomores, and other events highlight the final day of the week.

Activities

Christmas

Opening the 1957 Christmas Festival was Miss Dorothy Noonan who played an organ prelude of Christmas carols. The music which was presented was incorporated into the presentation of several tableaux, each of which depicted a part of the Christmas story. The Sacramento Junior College a cappella choir, directed by Mr. Stewart Tulley, and the SJC orchestra offered several selections during the program and accompanied Mr. Norman Lamb who presented a solo rendition of "Cantique de Noel." Additional music for the program was provided by the SJC band, under the direction of Mr. Lloyd Glancy. Two vocalists, Wilma Poage and Merle Brown, appeared in the program along with a flute duet by Karin Dollings and Joyce Richards.

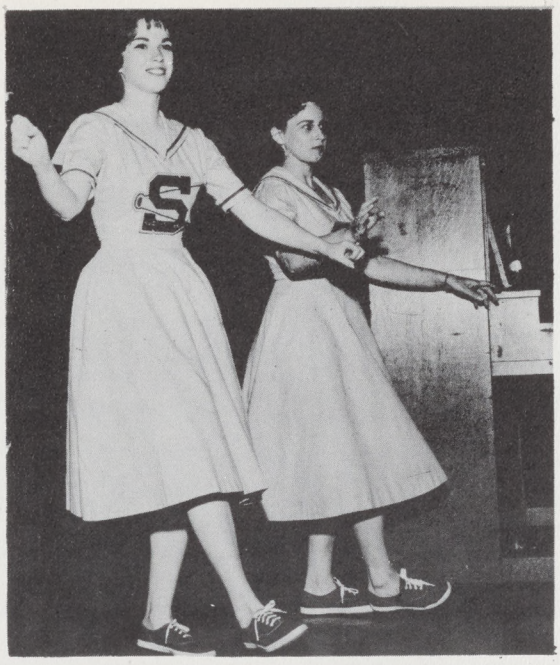
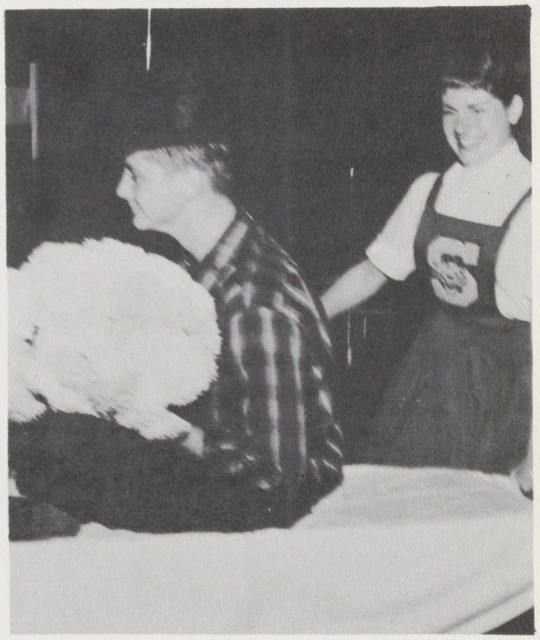
Rallies

Headed by the men's and women's vice-presidents, the rally committee planned and presented fourteen rallies this year. Purposes of the rallies varied from arousing school spirit for sports events to introducing candidates for student body offices. Outstanding entertainment, provided by SJC's many talented students, was presented. The yell leaders, songsters, and Panther band were also featured on many of the programs.

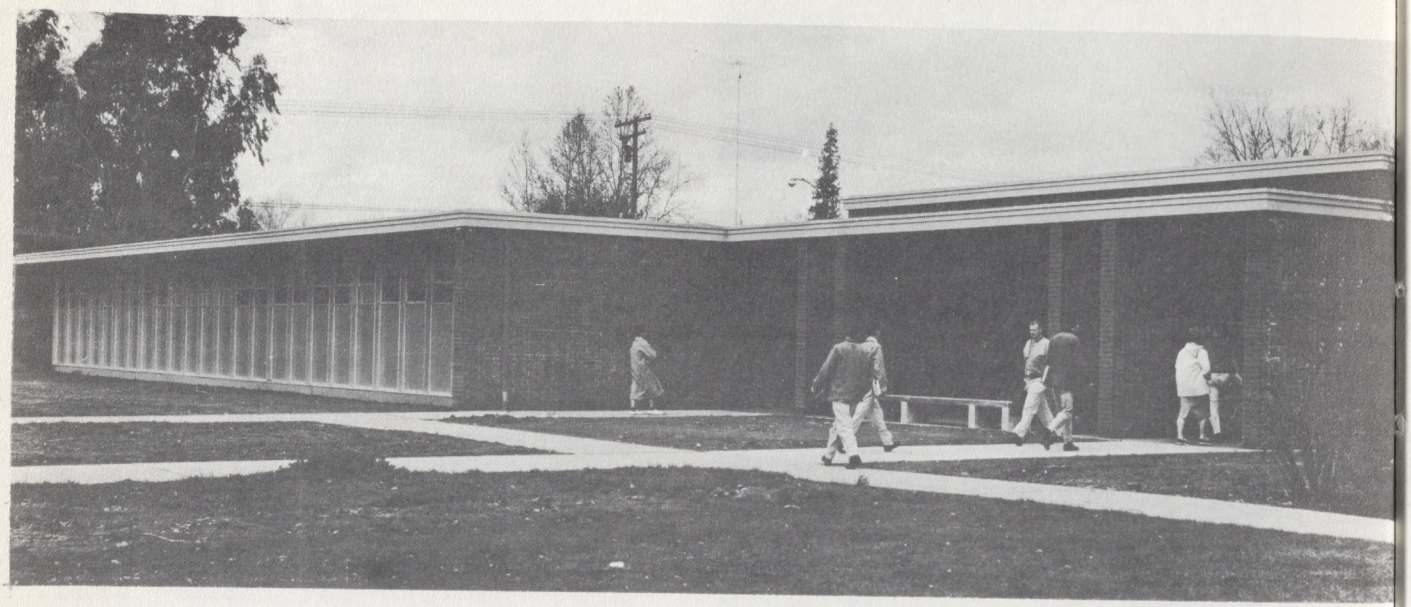


Janet White and Mary Ann Wren urge the student body to swing into action at a rally.



Sylvia Meyer carries Dan Willough-by onstage in a skit publicizing a school dance.

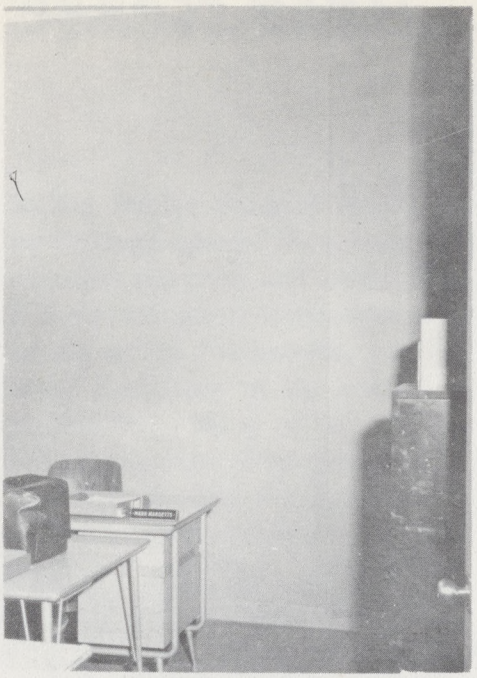
Songs by the popular brothers, Doug and Ray Lincoln, enlivened many a rally during the school year.



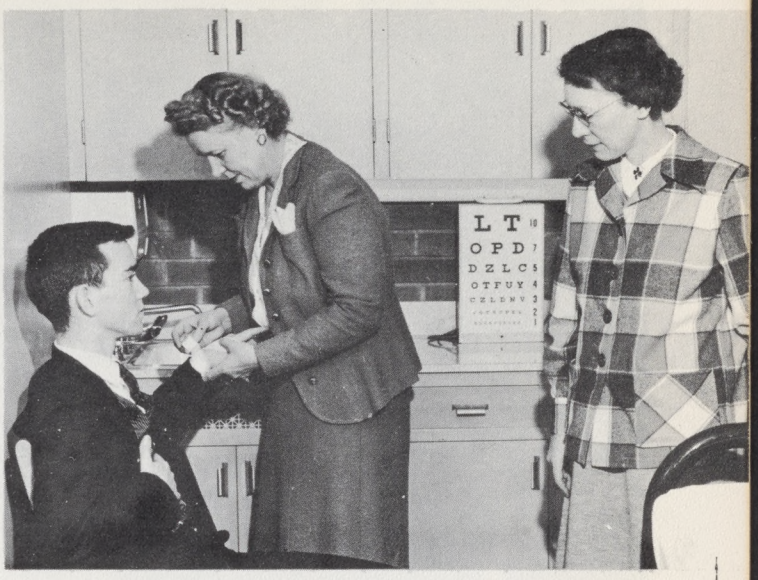
Campus Growth

During the spring semester a new Student-Center Building was completed and is now being used by the students of Sacramento Junior College. The new building, which was finished last March, houses the student bookstore, the publications departments, and the offices of Dean Russell C. Azzara, the school nurse, controller, and veteran's affairs secretary. Two conferences rooms are also in the building and are being utilized by the Executive Council and other school organizations. The modern architecture of the building adds a fresh look to the first of several additions planned for future years.

Equipped with four check-out stands, spacious floor space and the convenience of well placed shelves, the new bookstore is expected to handle with ease the rush which occurs during the beginning of each semester.



Many of the problems that came to the attention of the student government officers were worked out by them in the Student Association office pictured above.



Nurses Helen Rensta and Florence Wood administer first aid in the convenient new health office in the Student-Center Building.

Open House

Vice-president Peter Knoles accepted a bench from Associated Engineers Harold Sturgis, Bruce Kennedy, Merritt Hicks, Lyman Burnham, Roger Johnson, and John Meyer during an Open House ceremony.

Displaying objects from their native lands are Erna Melbiksis, Mohammad Omar, Luis Sanchez, Saghir Aslam, Mohammad Bari, and June Funai.

Marianne Fuller and Jeanne Wilson compete in the hair-styling contest which was part of the cosmetology department's OpenHouse exhibit.

Demonstrations

During Public Schools Week, Sacramento Junior College opened its doors to hundreds of interested parents and local citizens. Included in the evenings program was a dinner served in the cafeteria for guests, and later, the educational facilities of the school were opened for inspection. Many of the classes set up interesting displays depicting some phase of their class work. The evening was climaxed by a 45 minute program presented by the music and art students.

Tolo Season

Mary Ellen Gubel first hands out prizes for the best corsages and then awards the lucky king candidate, Bob Morin, the traditional kiss.

Jim Gianulias reigned over the fall Tolo dance, "The King and I," held in Governor's Hall on December 13. Signs with the mysterious letters, M-I-T-Y, meaning "May I Take You," appeared on campus before the spring version, entitled "Adam and Eve." An active Twirp Week preceded the dance held in Elks Temple.

Ray Clemons
Football Coach

The Panthers under Coach Ray Clemons finished the 1957 football season with a four win, five loss record. A Big Eight Conference record of two wins, five losses gave them sixth position in the league standings which included four teams tied for first. Fine passing by Jim Gianulias and Bob Gatiss, punting by Rich Ellsworth, and catching by Ardell Hamilton helped to conquer American River Junior College, Yuba Junior College, Oakland Junior College, and San Francisco City College. Individual honors went to Ardell Hamilton who made the Big Eight Conference's first team and was selected for the San Francisco Examiner's all Northern California football squad. Mark Margetts, Bob Gatiss, and Nat Garth were chosen for the conference second team.

In one of the best seasons in many years, the basketball squad compiled a 16 win, 11 loss seasonal record. Starting off the conference schedule rather slowly, the Panthers won five and lost nine to take sixth place in league play. Individual honors went to Terry Bennett, the season's top scorer, who was named to the Examiner all-star team and to the all-tournament team at the Modesto pre-seasonal tourney where the Sacramentans placed fifth. Bill Alexander, injured at the start of conference play, was picked for the coaches' second team.

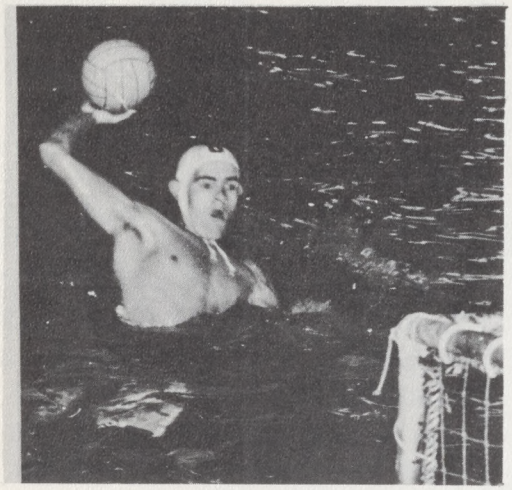
Water Polo



This year's water polo team ended with seven losses and two wins; the victories were in matches against Santa Clara and the Cal Maritime Academy. Though the competition in the Northern California Water Polo Association, "B" Division was too strong for the Sacramentans, Coach Earl Hoos feels that his mermen met the standards of past teams performing for Sacramento Junior College. Don Gergen captained the team in competition against the University of California Jayvees, Cal Aggies, San Francisco State, Stockton College, Arden Hills Club and Pacific Athletic Club.

Baseball Team

Outstanding pitching built around a strong inner defense have typified this year's baseball team coached by Mr. Cliff Perry in his first year at Sacramento Junior College. Of the four returning lettermen, Jim Gianulias, Don Silveria, and Curt Rebhan are pitchers and Don Nannini, a catcher. On second base, Jerry Silva's experience and ability are a pivot for the team. In double header league games at William Land Park and practice matches on the second diamond, the right handed novice team worked hard to improve its batting and fielding.

Track Team

Throughout the track season, the Panthers were battling it out with San Francisco City College for first place in the conference. With the biggest squad since the war, Coach Jack Mauger had complete all-around depth as well as outstanding performers like Les Waters who broke the school's two mile record and Bob Derheim who tumbled the previous shotput record. Even early in the season, school records in the mile relay and half mile were being threatened. The 43 man squad ends the season with the Big Eight Conference meet at Modesto and the Northern California Junior College meet at Santa Rosa. Those who place at Santa Rosa will go on to the State Junior College meet at Modesto, and top individual competitors will be entered in the Pacific Association meet at Stockton on June 7.

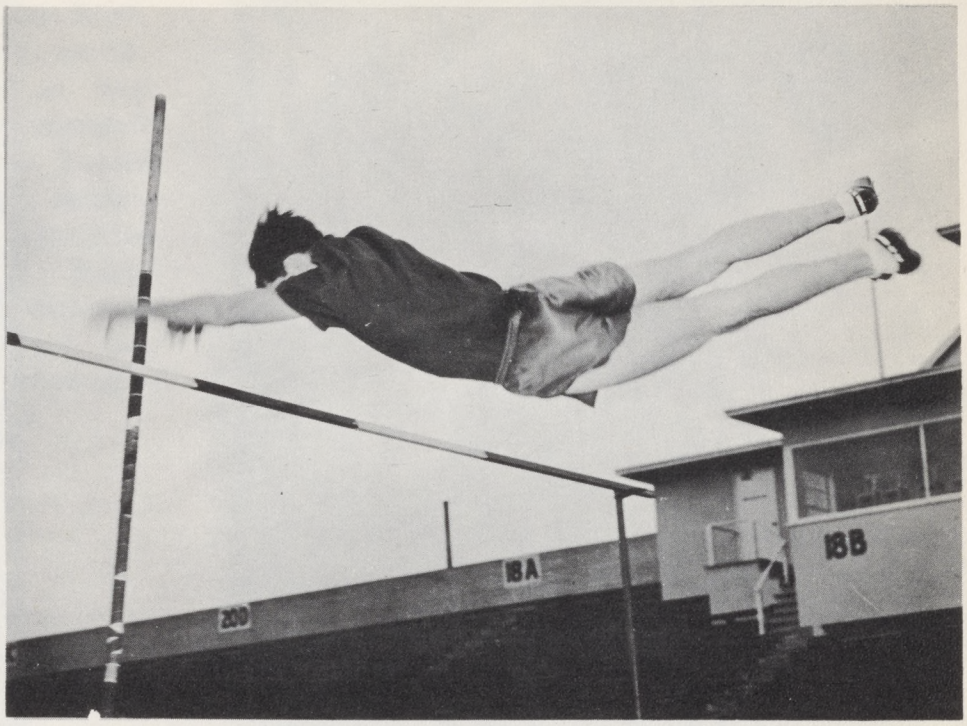
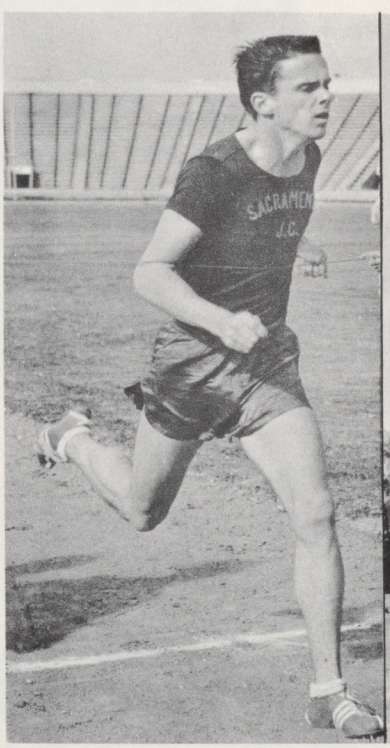
Fred DeWitt forges ahead during the mile relay in a tri-meet with Stockton and American River junior colleges while his teammate, Henry Dorsey, pounds down the finish line in the 440.

Ardell Hamilton clears the high hurdles with inches to spare while his teammates to the right, Ray Lincoln and Russell Statum, make a close finish in the 100 yard dash.

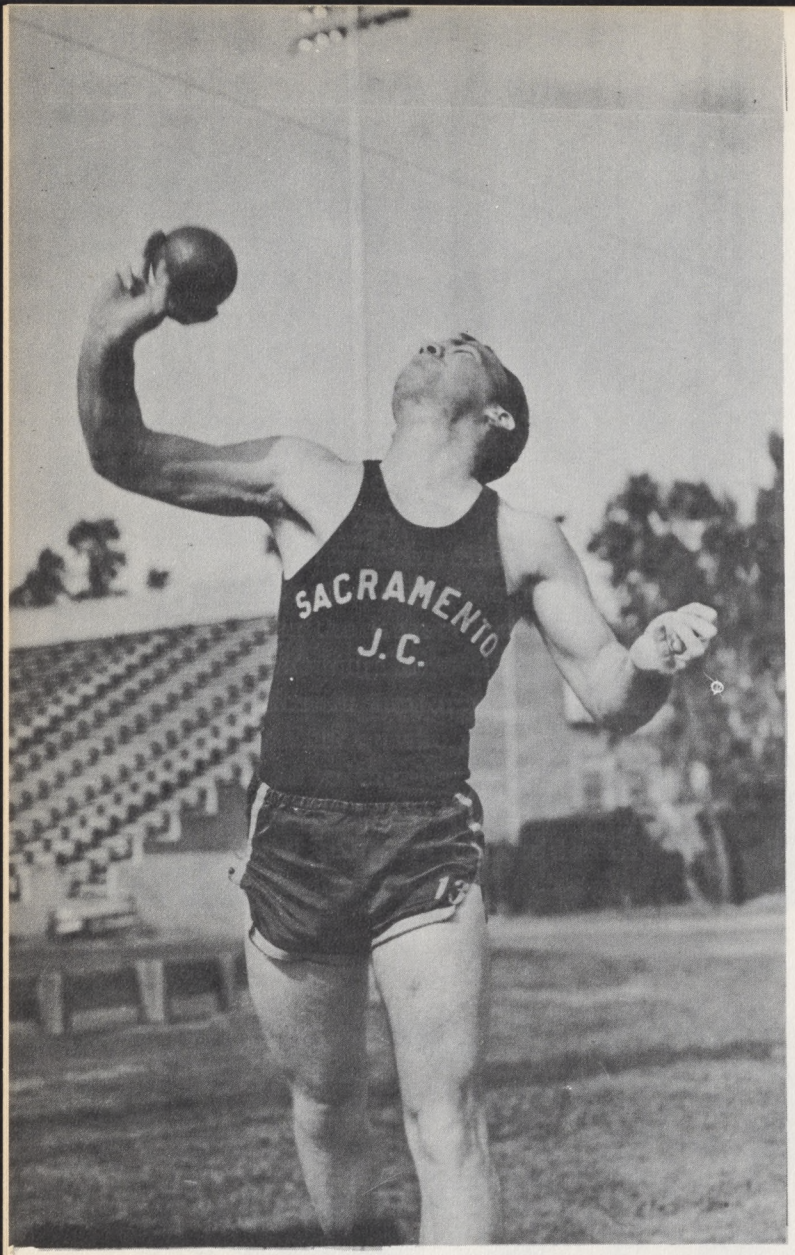


Pole vaulting 13 feet, 5 inches with form like this, Tim Helms paced the Panthers to many victories.



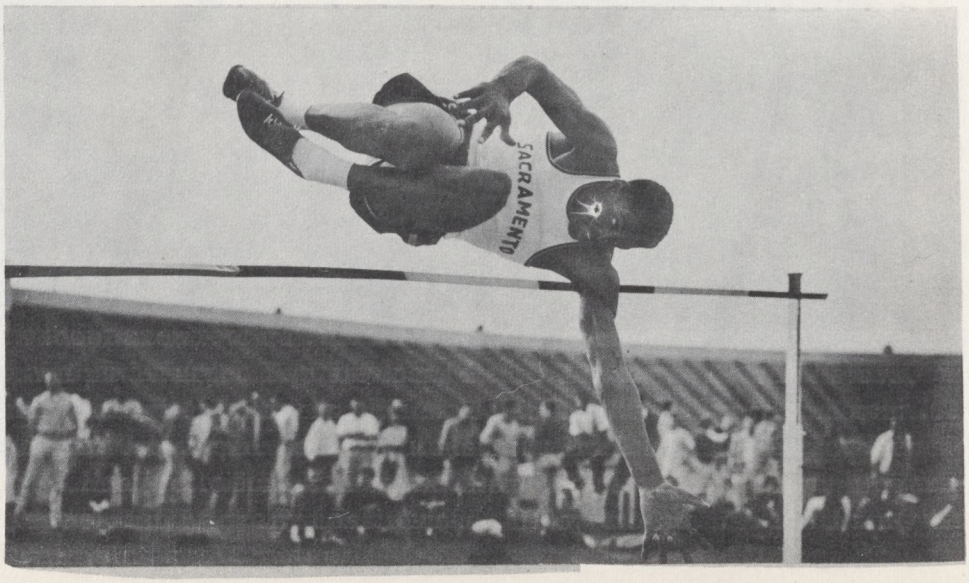
Don Ramos dashes home in the 220 for another win.

Scotty Kuhnen and Bob Powell watch Bob Derheim as he practices for the next meet.



Gaylan Larson puts his all into heaving the shot.

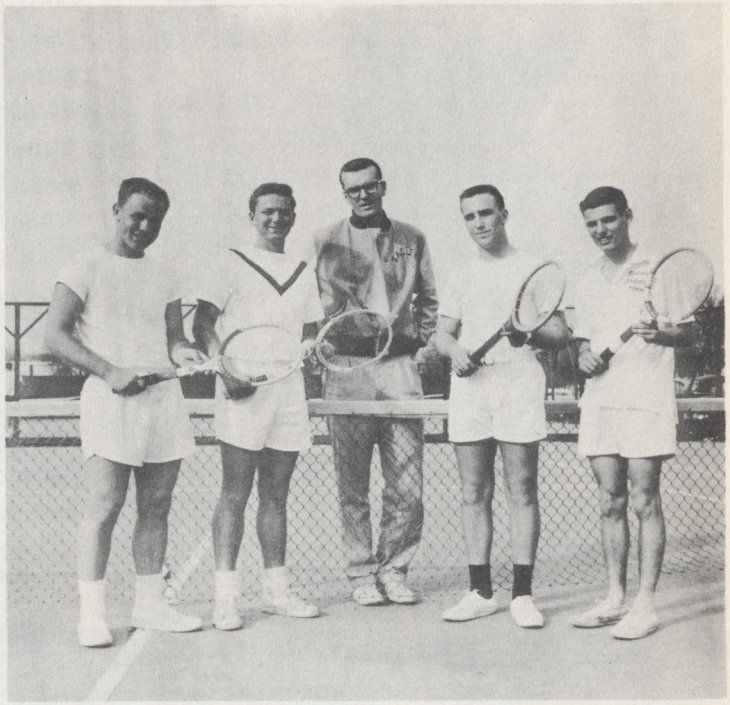
More points are chalked up by Les Waters as he breaks the tape.



Ardell Hamilton tops the high jump bar.

Tennis Team

Members of this year's tennis team, Ed Craddook, Don Determan, Neil Huson, and Jay Rich, are pictured with their coach, Mr. Jerry Anderson, as they started conference play March 7 against Oakland. West Contra Costa, Santa Rosa, San Mateo, Stockton, and Modesto were also on the squad's schedule. Basically a first year squad with only one letterman, Determan, the team is expected to be a good nucleus for the group of 1959.



Members of this year's golf team (front row) Duane Picht, Phillip Caine; (second row) Bill Alexander, Mike Korich, Ronald Uzelac, started the longest of the sports seasons on February 28 with a victory against American River Junior College. Practices at William Land Park and matches at Bing Maloney Golf Course continued until May 16. On May 19, state championship competition at San Jose was open to the top three teams and the top five individual players in the conference. Korich, number one man on the team and top golfer of the league with a handicap of two, and Uzelac are the only veterans on Coach Ray Clemons' five-man squad.

Swimming

Earl Hoos
Swimming Coach

The 1958 swimming team finished the season by winning six dual meets. This year's well-rounded squad was sparked by five returning lettermen: Lauren Layton Jim Lumsden, Ronald Rupp, Bob Cherny, and Carl Wishek. High point man for the season was Bob Livingston. The team was represented in both the Northern California Swimming Championships held at Modesto and the State Championships held at Monterey. The following team members earned their Varsity "S" in swimming: Peter Becker, Richard Fontaine, Ken Namikawa, Bob Livingston, Oscar Reneau, Guy Richard, Paul Yancey, and Ferrel Pendleton.

Women's Sports

Laura Howard, Carolyn Larson, and Deanna Vincze get set to shoot in their archery class.

Dorothy Brugger, Connie Roseniteele, and Lola Adorni practice putting for their beginning golf class which meets on the William Land Park course.

Under the leadership of Marjy Martin in the fall and Maria Hernandez in the spring, WOMEN'S RECREATION BOARD has scheduled and officiated at noontime golf, tennis, badminton, volleyball, hockey and basketball tournaments planned at regular monthly meetings. Miss Beth Hightower is sponsor.

This year, women have been offered a wide variety of physical education classes from which to choose. These have included team sports, modeling, modern dance, golf, swimming, tumbling, and recreational games. In addition, co-educational classes in archery, tennis, badminton, golf, folk dancing, social dancing, fundamentals of movement, life saving, water safety, diving, trampoline, and games and rhythms have proven very popular.

In Memoriam

Mr. Frank A. Erickson passed away January 1, 1958, but in death, as in life, he will live in the hearts of all who had the pleasure of knowing him. The memory of his many accomplishments will not soon be forgotten by the students who were acquainted with his warm personality; nor will the faculty and administration forget this man who possessed such sincere devotion to his position as manager of the Sacramento Junior College Bookstore. He is now immortalized by a memorial scholarship fund established in his name to help students through college just as Mr. Erickson was always prepared to help any student who was in need of his advice or assistance. Another lasting monument is the California Association of College Stores which Mr. Erickson helped establish and organize. No, Mr. Frank A. Erickson will not be forgotten as long as honesty, charity, and faith are held to be ideals among men.
